2026 Hawai'i Nurse Practitioner Week Conference - Access, Advocacy, and Action

Date: November 13, 2026

Location: The Alohilani Resort, Waikiki

About the Conference

The Hawai'i Nurse Practitioner Week Conference is Hawai'i's largest gathering of advanced practice nurses across the state. Held during NP Week (November 8-14), we celebrate NPs and recognize their contribution to our healthcare workforce in Hawai'i. This event brings together healthcare leaders, clinicians, educators, and students from across the islands for a day of professional development and networking. The conference will feature expert speakers and innovative sessions that help NPs improve patient outcomes and strengthen Hawai'i's healthcare workforce.

- Expected Attendance: 80-100
  - Target Audience: Nurse practitioners, advanced practice nurses, healthcare leaders, nurse educators, and students.
  - Conference Objectives
    - Identify strategies nurse practitioners use to improve access to care across Hawai'i.
    - Identify advocacy strategies nurse practitioners use to shape healthcare policy and practice in Hawai'i.
    - Identify ways nurse practitioners translate evidence into action to improve health outcomes across Hawai'i.
  - Key Features:
    - Keynote presentation by Dr. Valerie Fuller, President of the American Association of Nurse Practitioners
    - Presentations by local NPs focusing on timely clinical updates, policy & legislation, and nursing research and evidence-based practice.
    - Networking time during breaks, meals, and the evening Pau Hana.
